

The Pearson logo is located in the top right corner of the cover image. It consists of the word "PEARSON" in a white, sans-serif font, centered within a dark blue rectangular box with a white border. The background of the entire cover is a vibrant, abstract illustration of a microprocessor circuit board. The board is rendered in shades of green, blue, and purple, with glowing white lines representing data paths and connections. A central focus is a bright, multi-colored circular light effect, possibly representing a microprocessor chip or a data hub, with several white arrows pointing outwards from it. The overall aesthetic is high-tech and futuristic.
