Unlike most other mergers in the utility industry, which have been driven by the need to save money and extend companies' service areas, the merger of the nation's leading gas [and electric company is intended to create a huge marketing network for the utilities in question with states opening] their utility markets to competition. - Answer-E) company and leading electric company is intended to create a huge network for marketing the utilities in question as states open TrueSave's shipping manager is proposing that customer orders be packed with newer, more expensive materials that eliminate damage during shipping. The manager argues that overall costs would essentially remain unaffected, since the cost of new materials equals the current costs of replacing damaged products. Which of the following would be most important to ascertain in determining whether the proposal would have the argued-for effect on costs? - Answer-C) Whether a sizable portion of returned items are returned because of damage already present when those items were packed for shipping

Complete the passage: Taken in large quantities medicinal substances found in lakes could have serious health effects, but they are present in quantities far too low to cause any physiological response in people who drink or bathe in the water. Nevertheless, medical experts contend that eliminating these trace amounts from the water will have public health benefits, since _____. - Answer-E) disease-causing bacteria exposed to low concentrations of certain medicinal substances can become resistant to them.

Economist: On average, emergency treatment for an elderly person for injuries resulting from a fall costs $11k. A new therapeutic program can significantly reduce an elderly person's chances of falling. Though obviously desirable for many reasons, this treatment program will cost $12.5k and thus cannot be justified.

Which of the following most seriously undermines the conclusion of the argument? - Answer-C) A frequent result of injuries sustained in falls is long-term pain, medication for which is not counted among the avg. per-person costs of emergency treatment for elderly people's injuries from falls.

Because of steep increases in the average price per box of cereal over the last 10 years, overall sales of cereal have recently begun to drop. In an attempt to improve sales, one major cereal manufacturer reduced the wholesale prices of its cereals by 20%. Since most other CM's have announced they will follow suit, it is likely that the sales of cereal will rise.
