Despite increased interest in recent years in the role of race in Western culture scholars have neglected much of the body of work produced in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries by black intellectuals For example while DuBois thoughts about Africa may be familiar to contemporary academics those of his important precursors and contemporaries are not widely known Similarly although contemporary figures such as Martin Bernal Molefi Assante and other Afrocentrists are the subject of heated debate such debates are rarely illuminated by an awareness of the traditions that preceded them Race and The Writing of History redresses this imbalance using Bernal s Black Athena and its critics as an introduction to the historical inquiries of African American intellectuals and many of their African counterparts Keita examines the controversial legacy of writing history in America and offers a new perspective on the challenge of building new historiographies and epistemologies As a result this book sheds new light on how ideas about race and racism have shaped the stories we tell about ourselves
