e-Learning Ecologies Bill Cope, Mary Kalantzis, 2017-02-17 e-Learning Ecologies explores transformations in the patterns of pedagogy that accompany e-learning the use of computing devices that mediate or supplement the relationships between learners and teachers to present and assess learnable content to provide spaces where students do their work and to mediate peer to peer interactions Written by the members of the new learning research group this textbook suggests that e-learning ecologies may play a key part in shifting the systems of modern education even as technology itself is pedagogically neutral The chapters in this book aim to create an analytical framework with which to differentiate those aspects of educational technology that reproduce old pedagogical relations from those that are genuinely innovative and generative of new kinds of learning Featuring case studies from elementary schools colleges and universities on the practicalities of new learning environments e-Learning Ecologies elucidates the role of new technologies of knowledge representation and communication in bringing about change to educational institutions

109 Ideas for Virtual Learning Judy Breck, 2006 109 IDEAS For Virtual Learning reveals the online knowledge venue that today's generation uses to learn while playing along at school to receive promotions diplomas and degrees Calling that venue the virtual knowledge ecology Judy Breck describes the networking of open content for learning online where knowledge is fresher authoritative and more compelling than at school In this book she provides her eyewitness account of the decade long ongoing cascade of what is known by humankind from traditional resources into the Internet and explains the network mechanisms that interconnect the knowledge once it gets online Breck says the resulting virtual knowledge ecology is causing students worldwide literally to study from the same virtual page The author forewarns readers to expect emerging good news as the virtual knowledge ecology opens the way for a global golden age of education in which students learn more and teachers are respected professionals Breck contends that literacy and learning follow naturally from the Internet interfacing what humankind knows A boy or girl s hands can now hold a wireless device mirroring enlightenment from a new virtual venue into his or her mind
