

Build a UserForm for Excel

Introduction

A UserForm is a custom-built dialog box that you build using the Visual Basic Editor. Using the techniques shown in Excel you can use the Visual Basic Editor to create a UserForm in any of the Microsoft Office programs that support VBA.

With a UserForm you can create a user-friendly interface for your spreadsheet or document, making data entry more comfortable for your end users. For the user:

About the Project

This document shows you how to build a simple UserForm for entering personal addresses data set up in a spreadsheet in Excel. The work is divided into two main sections: building the form itself and then writing the VBA code to make it work. The finished UserForm will look something like this (Fig. 2).

Fig. 2. The finished UserForm project

NOTE: The screenshots here show how things look in Excel 2003 running on Windows XP. If you are working on an different version of Excel, or Windows, the appearance and layout might differ, but all the techniques explained here will be exactly the same.

Build the Form

Open Excel and open the Visual Basic Editor (Visual Basic IDE) (VBE) (you will need to see how to do this in Chapter 1 and the Programming Windows in it they are not visible upon their own from the Excel menu).

NOTE: When building your UserForm try to avoid double-clicking on anything (unless the instructions tell you to do so) because this sometimes opens the form's code window. If you do that accidentally simply close the code window by clicking an Close button, or switch back to the UserForm design window with the Alt+F11 shortcut (Appendix A).

Insert a New UserForm

Make sure that the correct workbook (e.g. Microsoft Excel12) is selected in the Project Explorer then open the Project Explorer and choose UserForms. When you do this a new, blank UserForm appears in the code window of the Visual Basic Editor and a corresponding entry appears in the Project Explorer (Fig. 2). The Project Explorer shows a new folder named Form1 containing the new UserForm which has been given the name UserForm1.
