Book Description

The cohousing "bible" by the US originators of the concept. A man's home is his castle. But demographic and economic changes have turned our castles into islands. How can we regain the elements of the traditional village – family, cooperation, community and a sense of belonging – within the context of 21st century life? Creating Cohousing: Building Sustainable Communities is an in-depth exploration of a uniquely rewarding type of housing which is perfect for anyone who values their independence but longs for more connection with those around them. Written by the award-winning team that wrote the original "cohousing bible" and first brought cohousing to North America, this fully-illustrated manual combines nuts-and-bolts practical considerations and design ideas with extensive case studies of dozens of diverse communities in Europe and North America. Cohousing communities create unique opportunities for designing more sustainable lifestyles. Whether urban, suburban or rural; senior or intergenerational; retrofit or new, the authors show how the physical structures of cohousing communities lend themselves to a more efficient use of resources, and make everything from gardening to childcare to socializing easier. Creating Cohousing puts the "neighbor" back into "neighborhood"; and is an essential resource for anyone interested in more environmentally and socially sustainable living.

Urban Eco-Communities in Australia Liam Cooper, Hans A. Baer, 2018-06-28 This book offers one of the first detailed anthropological studies of emergent ecotopianism in urban contexts Engaging directly with debates on urbanisation sustainability and utopia it presents two detailed ethnographic case studies of inner urban Australian eco communities in Adelaide and Melbourne These novel responses to the ecological crisis real social laboratories that attempt to manifest a vision of the eco city in microcosm offer substantial new insights into the concept and creation of sustainable urban communities their attempts to cultivate ways of living that are socially and ecologically nourishing and their often fraught relationship to the capitalist city beyond These studies also suggest the opportunities and limitations of moving beyond demonstration projects towards wider urban transformation as well as exposing the problems of accessibility and affordability that thwart further urban eco interventions and the ways that existing projects can exacerbate issues of gentrification and privilege in a socially polarised city Amidst the challenges of the capitalist city climate change and ecological crisis this book offers vital lessons on the potential of urban sustainability in future cities

New Approaches for Sustainable & Resilient Processes and Products of Social Housing Development in the Arabian Gulf Countries Khaled Galal Ahmed, Mohamed H. Elnabawi Mahgoub, Lindita Bande, Martin Scoppa, 2023-10-16 Social housing has been a forefront research topic especially from its economic and socio cultural factors The nature of social housing in the Arabian Gulf Countries has been distinctive in its approach with usually generous areas and urban sprawl designs Recently most of these Arabian Gulf Countries have gone through profound transformation in their social and housing paradigms influenced by their sustainability adopted agendas Still scholarly documentation and analysis of the processes and products of these transformed paradigms are largely missing or at least fragmented So there is a desperate need to boost research work in this field as related to each city country in this region with largely expected mutual effects that these experiences might have on each other and on the global debate about sustainable and resilient social housing as a whole
