

Cry, the Beloved Country

INTRODUCTION

BRIEF BIOGRAPHY OF ALAN PATON

Alan Paton was born and raised in South Africa. After he completed Natal University, Alan Paton taught school in the village of Isipingo. He began to explore religion, and converted to Anglicanism in 1931. In 1935, he became principal of the District Reformatory for delinquent black boys, where he made many successful, progressive reforms to the institution. During a visit of European and American prisons and reformatories, he began to write Cry, the Beloved Country. It was an immediate success upon publication, and sold over 25 million copies during Paton's lifetime. After the rise of the National Party, Paton became an anti-apartheid activist. He was president of the Liberal Party from 1952 until it was disbanded in 1962 because of how it was directed against interracial politics of parties. Paton was considered an enemy of the state; the government took his passport away in 1962 and did not renew it for a decade. He died in 1988, before the end of apartheid.

HISTORICAL CONTEXT

In the same year after the publication of Cry, the Beloved Country, the National Party rose to power in South Africa and implemented racial apartheid, an extreme form of segregation between the wealthy white minority and the poorer, oppressed black majority.

RELATED LITERARY WORKS

There are many books in the South African canon that deal with apartheid and its effects. July's People (1981) by Nadine Gordimer for Laureate Laureate Nadine Gordimer predicted how the system would fall and was banned by the government. Tato (1982) by Athol Fugard follows a young criminal with no family struggling amidst crushing poverty. Another novel by Alan Paton, An Inheritance of Man (1962) is set during the 1950s and follows a fictional version of his own politics of activism.
