

Questions About the Missing Person Lab

Base your answers to the following questions on what you have learned. Glue the questions into your ISN as a stamp grade.

1. What did you observe about the outfits within the same column (family or group)? Why do you think they are wearing similar clothes?

They are wearing similar clothes because the clothes represent the physical attributes.

2. What can the increase in the size of the "cousins" be compared to on the periodic table?

The increase can be compared to atomic mass.

3. How does the number of arms each cousin has relate to the number of energy levels that exist for specific atoms?

The number of arms is equal to the number of energy levels.

4. What is the significance of the number of fingers on each of the hands?

The number of fingers is the number of electrons in that certain energy level.

5. Compare the number of hairs on the heads of the cousins to valence electrons. How does this observation relate to Mendeleev's work?

The number of hairs is equal to the number of valence electrons. The number in the ones place are equal to the number of valence electrons.

6. Why are some cousins smiling while others are frowning? (Hint: Some atoms need only to gain or lose one, two, or three electrons to have a full outer energy shell.)

Some are smiling because they are full and stable.
