

History of Evolution

1. Classical Rhetoric:

- Originated in Ancient Greece and Rome, rhetoric was seen as an essential skill for politicians, philosophers, and leaders.
- Early rhetorical theories (e.g., Aristotle's Rhetoric) emphasized persuasion through speech, where mastery of words, logic, and performance was key.
- It relied on three main elements: ethos (character), pathos (emotion), and logos (reason). These formed the foundation of the rhetorical tradition, shaping political, legal, and philosophical discourse.
- The absence of technology meant that orators had to command the attention of their audience using memory, voice, and physical presence. Dissemination of their ideas was limited to live settings or manual transcriptions.

Augustinian Studies, 1980 Ancient Non-Greek Rhetorics Carol Lipson, Roberta A. Binkley, 2009 ANCIENT NON GREEK RHETORICS contributes to the recovery and understanding of ancient rhetorics in non Western cultures and other cultures that developed independently of classical Greco Roman models. Contributors analyze facets of the rhetorics as embedded within the particular cultures of ancient China, Egypt, Mesopotamia, the ancient Near East, more generally Israel, Japan, India, and ancient Ireland. The ten essays examine rhetorics as broadly construed, analyzing texts, addressing silence, as well as considering the placement and use of texts as part of multimedia cultural communication involving ritual along with oral, visual, sensual, experiential, and architectural elements and performances.
