impoverishment Franz Kafka's the Metamorphosis Sterling Professor of Humanities Harold Bloom, 2009 Presents a collection of critical essays about Kafka's The metamorphosis Metamorphosis David Gallagher, 2009 The origins of selected instances of metamorphosis in Germanic literature are traced from their roots in Ovid's Metamorphoses grouped roughly on an ascending evolutionary scale invertebrates birds animals and mermaids Whilst a broad range of mythological legendary fairytale and folktale traditions have played an appreciable part Ovid's Metamorphoses is still an important comparative analysis and reference point for nineteenth and twentieth century German language narratives of transformations Metamorphosis is most often used as an index of crisis an existential crisis of the subject or a crisis in a society's moral social or cultural values Specifically selected texts for analysis include Jeremias Gotthelf's Die schwarze Spinne 1842 with the terrifying metamorphoses of Christine into a black spider the metamorphosis of Gregor Samsa in Kafka's Die Verwandlung 1915 ambiguous metamorphoses in E T A Hoffmann's Der goldne Topf 1814 Hermann Hesse's Piktors Verwandlungen 1925 Der Steppenwolf 1927 and Christoph Ransmayr's Die letzte Welt 1988 Other mythical metamorphoses are examined in texts by Bachmann Fouqu Fontane Goethe Nietzsche Nelly Sachs Thomas Mann and Wagner and these and many others confirm that metamorphosis is used historically scientifically for religious purposes to highlight identity sexuality a dream state or for metaphoric metonymic or allegorical reasons The Metamorphosis Franz Kafka, 1972-02-01 When Gregor Samsa woke up one morning from unsettling dreams he found himself changed in his bed into a monstrous vermin With this startling bizarre yet surprisingly funny first sentence Kafka begins his masterpiece The Metamorphosis It is the story of a young man who transformed overnight into a giant beetlelike insect becomes an object of disgrace to his family an outsider in his own home a quintessentially alienated man A harrowing though absurdly comic meditation on human feelings of inadequacy guilt and isolation The Metamorphosis has taken its place as one of the most widely read and influential works of twentieth century fiction As W H Auden wrote Kafka is important to us because his predicament is the predicament of modern man Aspects of Metamorphosis David Barry Desmond Asker, 2001 Aspects of Metamorphosis Fictional Representations of the Becoming Human explores the various forms of metamorphosis found in literature mostly modern fiction but informed by earlier examples and the premises upon which the literature of transformation may be said to depend Instances of metamorphosis are very widespread in modern literature but as yet there has been no attempt to describe this literary anthropological phenomenon from a larger perspective This study approaches such a task The focus of Aspects of Metamorphosis is on human animal fictional metamorphoses which embody the concept of becoming human Gilles Deleuze describes metamorphosis especially in Kafka as the becoming animal Across the wide range of examples of literary metamorphosis in different languages and cultures I describe the becoming animal as an aspect of the becoming human a radical approach to mankind's perception of itself and restoration to itself through an animal other Franz Kafka is in many ways an odd man out in the crowd of modern metamorphosists Other authors across borders political geographical and linguistic present a humanist and moralist perspective that does not represent a fundamental break with the norms and cultural traditions rooted in the past

Metamorphosis Harold Skulsky, 1981 Fusing the methods of comparative literature intellectual history and philosophical analysis Harold Skulsky explores a motif that has fascinated storytellers since antiquity the miraculous transformation of a character into a plant an animal or a different human being The thesis of the study is that the fantasy of metamorphosis challenges the narrator and his audience to confront certain basic anxieties about the human condition Is the mind reducible to physical properties What constitutes personhood How does physical form affect personal identity and continuity of the self Testing instances in which these and related perplexities appear in literature Skulsky systematically and provocatively interprets ten major illustrative texts drawn from diverse epochs and languages including the works of Homer Ovid Apuleius Marie de France Dante Donne Spenser Keats Kafka and Woolf Through Skulsky's masterly analysis the victims of metamorphosis in narrative literature whether werewolf ass beetle swine or tree provide a profound insight into the complexities of human experience answers his mother and realizes that his voice has changed but his answer is short so his mother does not notice His sister Greta to whom he was very close then whispers through the door and begs him to open it He tries to get out of bed but is incapable of moving his body While trying to move he finds that his office manager the chief clerk has shown up to check on him He finally rocks his body to the floor and calls out that he will open the door shortly Offended by Gregor s delayed response in opening the door the clerk warns him of the consequences of missing work He adds that Gregor s recent performance has been unsatisfactory Gregor disagrees and tells him that he will open the door shortly Nobody on the other side of the door has understood a single word he had uttered Gregor is unaware that his voice has also transformed and they conclude that he is seriously ill Finally Gregor manages to unlock and open the door with his mouth He apologizes to the office manager for the delay Horrified by Gregor s appearance his mother faints and the manager bolts out of the apartment Gregor tries to catch up with him but his father drives him back into the bedroom with a cane and a rolled newspaper Gregor injures himself squeezing back through the doorway and his father slams the door shut Gregor exhausted falls asleep
