

Accessories

Naim Audio products are conceived with performance as the top priority. Careful installation will help ensure that their full potential is achieved. This manual covers the NAPSC and i-Supply power supplies, Headline headphone amplifier and Stageline phono amplifier. It begins with general installation notes and statutory safety warnings. Product specific information begins in Section 5.

1 Connections

It is important for both safety and performance that any standard cables supplied are not modified.

1.1 Analogue Audio Interconnect Cables

If options are available with your equipment and installation, DIN interconnect sockets should be used in preference to Phono sockets. One end of each Naim audio interconnect cable is marked with a band to establish its correct orientation. The band denotes the end that connects to the signal source. Naim Hi-Line interconnect cables will provide the best results.

Audio interconnect plugs and sockets should be kept clean and free from corrosion. The easiest way to clean them is to switch off the equipment, pull the plugs out of their sockets, and push them back in again. Contact cleaners and "enhancers" should not be used as the film they deposit may degrade the sound.

2 Mains Power

Where fused plugs are used 13 amp fuses should be fitted (i-Supply 3 amp). Fuses of a lower rating will fail after a period of use. Do not wire voltage dependent resistors or noise suppressors into mains plugs. They degrade the mains supply and the sound.

2.1 Mains Plug Wiring

In some territories a mains plug may need to be fitted to the supplied mains lead. As the colours of the wires in the mains lead may not correspond with the coloured markings identifying the terminals in the plug proceed as follows:

The wire coloured GREEN and YELLOW must be connected to the terminal in the plug marked by the letter E or by the safety earth symbol or coloured GREEN or GREEN and YELLOW.

The wire coloured BLUE must be connected to the terminal in the plug marked with the letter N or coloured BLACK.

The wire coloured BROWN must be connected to the terminal in the plug marked with the letter L or coloured RED.

2.2 Equipment Fuses

Mains powered Naim Audio equipment is fitted with a mains fuse on the rear panel adjacent to the mains input socket (not i-Supply). Replace it if necessary only with the spare fuse supplied or with an identical fuse. Repeated failure of the fuse points to a fault that should be investigated by your retailer or Naim Audio.

2.3 Non-rewirable Mains Plugs

If a non-rewirable plug is cut from a mains lead (for whatever purpose) the plug MUST be disposed of in a way to render it totally useless. Considerable shock hazard exists if the cut-off plug is inserted into a mains outlet.

2.4 Mains Circuits and Cables

A hi-fi system usually shares a mains circuit with other household equipment, some of which can cause distortion of the mains
