Posthumanist and New Materialist Methodologies Claudia Diaz-Diaz, Paulina Semeneć, 2020-03-13 This book features interviews with 19 scholars who do research with children in a variety of contexts. It examines how these key scholars address research after the child by exploring the opportunities and challenges of drawing on posthumanist and materialist methodologies that unsettle humanist research practices. The book reflects on how posthumanist and materialist approaches have informed research in relation to de-centering the child, re-thinking methodological concepts of voice, agency, data analysis and representation. It also explores what the future of research after the child might entail and offers suggestions to new and emerging scholars involved in research with children. Reviewing how posthumanist and materialist approaches have informed authors thinking about children research and knowledge production, the book will appeal to graduate students and emerging scholars in the field of childhood studies who wish to experiment with posthumanist methodologies and materialist approaches.

Finland's National Theatre 1974-1991 Pirkko Koski, 2022-03-22 This study analyses the Finnish National Theatre's activities throughout the decades during which the post-war generation with its new societal and theatrical views was rising to power and during which Europe, divided by the Iron Curtain, was maturing to break the boundaries dividing it. Pirkko Koski summarizes the activities of the Finnish National Theatre as a cultural factor and as a part of the Finnish theatre field during the 1970s and 1980s. Geography, Art, Research Harriet Hawkins, 2020-09-27 This book explores the intersection of geographical knowledge and artistic research in terms of both creative methods and practice based research. In doing so, it brings together geography's creative turn with the art world's research turn. Based on a decade and a half of ethnographic stories of working at the intersection of creative arts practices and geographical research, this book offers a much needed critical account of these forms of knowledge production. Adopting a geohumanities approach to investigating how these forms of knowledge are produced consumed and circulated it queries what imaginaries and practices of the key sites of knowledge making including the field the artist s studio the PhD thesis and the exhibition emerge and how these might challenge existing understandings of these locations Inspired by the geographies of science and knowledge art history and theory and accounts of working within and beyond disciplines this book seeks to understand the geographies of research at the intersection of geography and creative arts practices how these geographies challenge existing understandings of these disciplines and practices and what they might contribute to our wider discussions of working beyond disciplines including through artistic research This book offers a timely contribution to the emerging fields of artistic research and geohumanities and will appeal to undergraduate and postgraduate students and researchers
