A Corpus-based Critical Discourse Analysis* Seda Evirgen,2021-05-04 Master s Thesis from the year 2020 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Linguistics grade 1 0 Justus Liebig University Giessen language English abstract The thesis at hand puts a special emphasis on the use of persuasive language in online native advertisements from The New York Times After careful examination the corpus will be compiled of three native advertisements from the field of technology by the sponsors Intel Dropbox and Slack The limitation to these native advertisements and persuasive linguistic devices and techniques was necessary with regard to the scope of this thesis As no linguistic analysis of native advertisements could be found there also was no reference to follow Therefore the thesis at hand lays the foundation for further research in this area The aim is to conduct a corpus based Critical Discourse Analysis in order to investigate and answer two main questions 1 Do online native advertisements make use of the same persuasion methods as previously researched for other advertising types 2 What are the most prominent persuasive linguistic devices and techniques in the online native advertisements from The New York Times In addition to the CDA the corpus based approach is expected to provide quantitative evidence of the existence of discourse and to identify repetitive linguistic patterns of persuasive language use in native advertising The thesis will be structured as follows First the theoretical framework provides general information about the functions and characteristics of advertising while further focusing on native advertisement and the language of advertising It continues with explaining the concept of persuasive language on the basis of ethos logos and pathos and introduces some powerful persuasive techniques in advertisement Further linguistic devices of persuasive language on the phonetic lexical morphological and syntactic level will be defined Additionally the concept of Critical Discourse Analysis will be explained in detail as the thesis at hand follows the CDA framework of Fairclough The data collection method and data analysis procedure will be outlined in Chapter 3 This is followed by an analysis of three online native advertisements from the publisher The New York Times After the analysis the results will be presented and evaluated in order to assess the hypothesis Finally the conclusion provides a summary of the findings and suggests further research opportunities Persuasive Advertising J. Armstrong,2010-05-26 Written by a leading authority this book is a comprehensive and definitive guide to advertising that incorporates a vast amount of research and expert opinion It draws upon the evidence to establish principles that can be applied to achieve successful and effective advertising and evaluates all of the relevant attributes and aspects of this Dynamics of Persuasion in Advertising

Akhand Pratap Singh, 2019 Advertising through television commercials has always been at the forefront of persuasion. With different techniques and creative strategies brands have pushed their products as necessities rather than consumer goods with devices or services to better consumers' lives. This thesis studies the dynamics of advertising in terms of persuasion and the shift in the culture of Apple marketing when Steve Jobs served as CEO of Apple compared to the reign of Tim Cook as CEO of Apple. The method of content analysis using a qualitative approach was utilized to explore the use of different stereotypes in commercials and how stereotypes are used to produce loss and gain frames. The qualitative approach to content analysis also helped to understand the shift in persuasion strategies during the time Steve Jobs served as the CEO of Apple and compared to that of Tim Cook as CEO of Apple.

Persuasion Analysis Hugh Rank, 1988 Paying less attention to the traditionally taught rational logical argument analysis format this book focuses on analysis of the emotional non logical persuasive language and techniques often seen in television advertisements. In so doing readers become more discerning consumers and hone their writing skills. Designed as both a self study guide and as a companion to a composition course this book contains comprehensive checklists for analyzing and creating persuasive compositions.

DQE Pragmatics in Persuasive Discourse of Spanish Television Advertising Karol J. Hardin, 2001 This investigation analyzes pragmatic ways in which Spanish is used to achieve persuasion in television advertising. The author applies pragmatic models to commercials for products and services from three countries: Chile, Spain, and the United States. She addresses the questions: 1 Which pragmatic devices occur most frequently? 2 How are these devices linguistically coded? 3 Are any differences evident between regional varieties of Spanish? and 4 How are pragmalinguistic features of television advertising used to effect persuasion? The most representative variables include speech acts, indexicals, politeness implicatures, violations of Grice's Maxims, and speaker considerations. The study contributes to the cross linguistic understanding of pragmatics and of persuasion in Spanish by 1 offering a procedure that may be replicated, 2 addressing multiple pragmatic categories, and 3 examining the relationship between pragmatic strategies and persuasion among Spanish speakers. Given the vital role of the media in society, Spanish television advertising reflects the pragmatic communication of persuasion by and to Spanish speakers.

Pragmática de discurso persuasivo de publicidad de televisión en español. Esta investigación analiza las maneras pragmáticas en las cuales se usa el español para persuadir en la publicidad de televisión y contribuye al entendimiento lingüístico de pragmática y persuasión en español. El libro está escrito en inglés.
