

How to Pronounce English Words Correctly

Wondering how to pronounce vowels and consonants in American English? Accurate pronunciation is an important part of learning any foreign language. But the tricky thing about pronunciation is that it is not just a question of acquiring knowledge, it's a physical skill that you need to practice regularly. And the problem is that the English spelling system is very complicated and typically, words are not pronounced the way they are spelled. So how to pronounce English words correctly?

In fact, there is little consistency between the 26 letters of the English alphabet and the sounds we use when saying them out loud. Besides, there are just 5 vowel letters (a, e, i, u, o) and about 15 various vowel sounds. Furthermore, the English alphabet has 21 consonant letters and about 24 consonant sounds. So how can you pronounce a word you have never read? Guessing is a terrible strategy that leads to a lot of errors and bad habits. What is the way out? To pronounce words correctly, you need to learn to recognize all the sounds in American English and their symbols in the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA).

What is the IPA?

International Phonetic Alphabet or IPA is the system to transcribe words of any language as they sound using universal phonetic symbols. In the IPA, each symbol is associated with a specific English sound. If you learn all the symbols, you will know exactly how to pronounce any word because most English dictionaries use IPA to describe pronunciation of the words. Using the IPA, you'll be able to improve your pronunciation and feel more confident speaking English. Keep reading to learn how to pronounce IPA symbols.

How to Pronounce Vowels

When it comes to pronunciation, vowels are the hardest part of American English. Vowel sounds are produced with an open vocal tract. Here are the IPA symbols for vowel sounds in American English.

- /i/ is used in beet, heat, see, read. When pronouncing this sound, you need to keep your tongue high and form your mouth into a wide narrow shape.
- /ɪ/ is used in bit, kit, sit, fill. Keep your lips and your tongue neutral and relaxed and make the sound at the back of your throat.
- /ɛ/ is used in set, bed, get, ten. Keep your lips and jaw loose and hold the middle of the tongue slightly rounded upwards.
- /æ/ is used in bad, cat, land, sad. Hold your lips apart and push the front of your tongue further forward.
- /ɑ/ is used in cot, hot, god. Hold your jaw more open and keep the back of your tongue lower than for any other vowel sound.

41 Rules of Pronunciation of English Words Ram Nivas Kumar, We often see that people in India and some other regions speak in their way others fail to understand or hardly come to the sense of the speech Why is this The reason behind is that there is a lack of uniformity in pronunciation of their words Well one is not free to speak one s own pronunciation There must be uniformity in the matter of pronunciation of English words at least in a certain region Keeping this in view I made consistent efforts for several years to collect the rules concerned to add some uniformity to the subject And based on the depth study of advanced dictionaries of international fame I found out 41 rules of pronunciation which I assembled all them and composed of this book Well knowledge of English is regarded as an index of education and the ability to speak English correctly is regarded as an index of good schooling Without knowledge of English the education of a literate person may seem to be interrogated Now learning English is an ever growing demand And speaking English correctly is a social requirement as well While we speak of spoken English we are afraid of the correct pronunciation of the words coming to our tongue To help readers learn pronunciation of English words I made an intensive research went through lots of dictionaries of international fame found out some general rules assembled all them and asked one to follow illustrative not exhaustive First I would like to make it clear that sound and pronunciation are not the same things Both are somewhat different things The sound of a particular word depends on our lung tongue larynx and pharynx It also depends upon climatic condition and geographical spheres While human mechanism is capable of producing many sounds of a single word the pronunciation of a particular word is fixed for all and included in almost all dictionaries of international fame There exists no single form of pronunciation which alone can be regarded as correct The pronunciation fixed by Prof R K Bansal of the University of English and Foreign Languages Hyderabad and Prof A C Gimson of the University of London may differ from that of Collins Dictionary Primitive pristine However some general rules have been fixed for better learning
