The SAGE Handbook of Housing Studies David F Clapham, William A V Clark, Kenneth Gibb, 2012-04-20 Cross disciplinary and critical in its approach The SAGE Handbook of Housing Studies is an elucidating look at the key issues within the field It covers the study of housing retrospectively but also analyses the future directions of research and theory demonstrating how it can contribute to wider debates in the social sciences A comprehensive introductory chapter is followed by four parts offering complete coverage of the area Markets examines the perception of housing markets how they function in different contexts and the importance of housing behaviour and neighbourhoods Approaches looks at how other disciplines economics geography and sociology have informed the direction of housing studies Context traces the interactions between housing studies and other aspects of society providing context to debate housing through issues of space social welfare and the environment Policy is a multi disciplinary and comprehensive take on the major policy issues and the causes and possible solutions of housing problems such as regeneration and homelessness Edited by leading names in the field and including international contributions the book is a stimulating wide ranging read that will be an invaluable resource for academics and researchers in geography urban studies sociology social policy economics and politics The New York Times Index

,1974 Biology: How Life Works (Volume 1) James Morris, 2013-01-04 Ordinarily textbooks are developed by first writing chapters then making decisions about art and images and finally once the book is complete assembling a test bank and ancillary media This process dramatically limits the integration across resources and reduces art media and assessments to ancillary material rather than essential resources for student learning Biology How Life Works is the first project to develop three pillars the text the visual program and the assessment at the same time All three pillars were developed in parallel to make sure that each idea is addressed in the most appropriate medium and to ensure authentic integration These three pillars are all tied to the same set of core concepts share a common language and use the same visual palette In this way the text visual program and assessments are integral parts of student learning rather than just accessories to the text

Handbook of the Biology of Aging Edward J. Masoro, Steven N. Austad, 2010-12-13 Handbook of the Biology of Aging Seventh Edition reviews and synthesizes recent findings and discoveries in the field This volume is part of The Handbooks of Aging series which also includes The Handbook of the Psychology of Aging and The Handbook of Aging and the Social Sciences The book is organized into two parts Part 1 covers basic aging processes It covers concepts relevant to clinical research such as muscle adipose tissue and stem cells It discusses research on how dietary restriction can slow down the aging process and extend life in a wide range of species Part 2 deals with the medical physiology of aging It contains several chapters on the aging of the human brain These chapters deal not only with diseases but also with normal aging changes to cerebral vasculature and myelination as well as the clinical implications of those changes Additional chapters cover how aging affects central features of human health such as insulin secretion pulmonary and cardiac function and the ability to maintain body weight and body temperature The volume is primarily directed at basic researchers who wish to keep abreast of new research outside their own subdiscipline It will also be useful to medical behavioral and social gerontologists who want to learn about the discoveries of basic scientists and clinicians Contains basic aging processes as determined by animal research as well as medical physiology of aging as known in humans Covers hot areas of research like stem cells integrated with longstanding areas of interest in aging like telomeres mitochondrial function etc Edited by one of the fathers of gerontology Masoro and contributors represent top scholars in gerontology CA Te Am Anthem 2007 Mod Holt Rinehart & Winston,2007
