As financial data remains a top target for cyberattacks, the need for accounting professionals and businesses to protect this sensitive and priceless information is more urgent than ever.

A key strategy in safeguarding the integrity of financial data is enhancing accounting cyber security, defined as the systems and risk management plans that defend against the mounting risks of cyberattacks and data breaches. This calls for increased collaboration between accountants and IT teams to formulate and implement more effective cyber defences.

Specially tailored for accounting and finance professionals, this Cyber Security Conference aims to provide the specific knowledge and tools on how to design a robust cyber security strategy to protect financial data. Our expert speakers and panellists will offer practical tips for securing data and advocating for the integration of best practices in both cyber security and accounting within your organisation. The Conference will also cover the Cyber Security Act 2024, gazetted on 26 June 2024, and highlight what accountants need to know about the Code of Practice, compliance and reporting, licensing of cybersecurity service providers, as well as enforcement and penalties.
