

Module 1 – Drawing Set Organization

1.1 SHEET IDENTIFICATION

The sheet identification format typically used in traditional construction drawing sets uses a consistent set of sheet numbers, drawing titles, and titles distributed across drawings in a drawing set regarding sheets. These techniques have also provided an opportunity to expand the use of the sheet identifier. Accordingly, the sheet identification format is a key part of V5.0.

1.1.1 Standard Sheet Identification

The sheet identification format is applicable to both manual and CAD drawings. It is consistent with standards set forth throughout the entire range of project types. The V5.0 sheet identification format standard uses consistent sheet numbering as follows:

- 1. The drawing designer – consisting of one alphanumeric character and a hyphen or two alphanumeric characters.
- 2. The sheet type identifier – consisting of one numerical character.
- 3. The sheet sequence number – consisting of two numerical characters.

The use of the drawing designer identifier identifies the sheet as a member of a project. A sheet type identifier identifies the type information on the sheet is followed by the sheet sequence number.

Regarding the use of sheet sequence numbers, V5.0 allows two levels of sheet identification. Below is a list of examples of the sheet numbers used to set the context of the presentation of the drawings. Level 1 offers the simplest presentation format and would be suitable for all but the most complex projects. Level 2 provides guidance for complex or special types of projects. Refer to V5.0 Appendix A – Drawing Designer, V5.0 Appendix B – Drawing Designer, V5.0 Appendix C – Drawing Designer for more details on sheet identification.

Note that the hyphen in the Level 1 drawing designer ID is located after the first of the characters of the second character. The hyphen is preferred rather than an electrical zero due to the use of the “0” character. The hyphen, accordingly, is recommended for use to replace the hyphen when specifying operating system sheet set sheet numbers in the name.

1.1.2 Drawing Designer

The first component of the sheet identification format, the drawing designer, is based on the building system or architectural discipline. Drawing designers using other, or single alphanumeric characters and a hyphen (Level 1) or two alphanumeric characters (Level 2).

The drawing designer denotes the category of subject matter contained on the sheets in the drawing set. It must appear:
