

Doing Business in the Philippines

The Philippines is the gateway to the vast Southeastern markets of the ASEAN region. Unlike any other Asian country, the Philippines has an excellent record in attracting foreign direct investment in the Philippines. Many investors continue to explore the Philippines for growth opportunities and resources, a developing infrastructure for regional growth, a sophisticated business environment and access to a vast

The Philippine economy withstood the recent global economic downturn better than any other ASEAN country. Apart from being severely affected by international economic, the Philippines enjoys frequent domestic consumption, low dependence on exports and large amounts of remittances flowing into the country from the millions of Filipinos working abroad. With a stable banking system, a well performing stock market, a consistently expanding business contracting industry and record high levels of international reserves, the prospects for the Philippine economy remain positive. Furthermore, the Asian Development Bank (ADB), which offers a broad range of business opportunities in the region is located in Manila. These indicators, in combination with a literacy rate of 98.7% in English, being taught in all schools provides many business opportunities for Dutch entrepreneurs. There is particularly need for the sectors mentioned below.

Priority sectors

Transport & Infrastructure

While challenges remain in the area of public infrastructure, the increased public spending on infrastructure has led to new seaport investments through better roads and more flights.

The next few years will see additional investments from the government and increasing private involvement in the Philippine transport sector. The program is also developing air ports facilities to be an infrastructure gateway to being an emerging region with domestic and international routes. Due to the growing importance in transport and logistics, business opportunities for Dutch companies can be explored for airport and port development, bus facilities and inland express facilities for sea-food, horticulture and forestry products (e.g. cold storage, freezing, post-harvest storage facilities).

Maritime

The Netherlands and the Philippines have strong and long-standing bilateral political and economic cooperation in the maritime sector. The program is the "blueing capital of the world" and is the primary source of seafarers for the Dutch fleet. The country's strategic waterways is a strategic hub for ports, shipping and maritime facilities within the Asia-Pacific region. Given the substantial economic interests involved for the Dutch shipping sector, more and more Dutch shipping companies are wishing to expand their business presence in the Philippines instead of just partnering with local incumbent agencies. Similarly, both governments strongly need the need committee on Maritime Affairs (COMA), a high-level bilateral meeting to strengthen maritime cooperation.
