

An aerial, high-angle photograph of a busy city street. The street is paved with light-colored cobblestones and is filled with a diverse group of people walking in various directions. In the lower-left corner, a rickshaw with two orange seats is visible. A traffic light stands on the left side of the street. The overall scene conveys a sense of a multicultural and bustling urban environment.

Interculturality in International Education Jane Jackson, 2018-05-15 This comprehensive volume provides a state of the art overview of the key issues and developments in study abroad research and practice with a specific focus on the intercultural and language learning dimensions of the study abroad experience Rather than looking at individual studies the book seeks to capture the full complexity of the language learning and intercultural dynamics of study abroad by exploring a wide range of topics of particular interest to study abroad researchers and practitioners including the role of individual differences identity reconstruction and interculturality the challenges of assessing learning outcomes and recent pedagogical interventions designed to enhance and extend language learning and engagement in these contexts The volume also takes a step back to look at future directions for study abroad research and offers innovative interventions in study abroad programming that emphasise its intercultural elements This book is an authoritative resource for study abroad scholars and researchers in such fields as intercultural communication applied linguistics sociolinguistics and language education

Intercultural Communication Rona Tamiko Halualani, 2021-10-26 Intercultural Communication A Critical Perspective is grounded in a framework based on key dimensions of power in relation to intercultural communication A macro micro focus is applied throughout the book to theorize the ways in which larger structures of power intermingle and reconfigure private one on one encounters and relations between different cultures both domestically and internationally The textbook introduces students to both the hidden and visible aspects of power that constitute intercultural communication encounters and relations The book begins by introducing the concept of intercultural communication and demonstrating how ubiquitous it is in our everyday lives Subsequent chapters address the ties between culture power and intercultural communication how powerful ideologies develop from cultural views and ways of life and the interplay of cultural representation and speaking for or about a cultural group Students learn the ways in which individuals and structures of power shape identity how different structures and groups remember and forget the past and how racialization relates to intercultural communication The final chapters explore power dynamics with regard to globalization intercultural relationships and desire and our roles in intercultural communication The second edition features new and updated research studies and illustrative examples throughout Every chapter has a new narrative opening introducing new identity positionalities and characters located in different cultural contexts and connecting to the ACT Framework for Intercultural Justice to highlight agency resistance and structural change

Change and Exchange in Global Education Mei Yuan, Fred Dervin, Sude, Ning Chen, 2022-09-23 This unique book starts from the premise that students scholars and educators should be given access to a form of global education that is genuinely global Using the notion of interculturality as change and exchange as a basis the authors examine fifty discourse instruments e g idioms neologisms slogans related to what they call Chinese stories of interculturality China like other countries has a rich and complex history of intercultural encounters and her engagement with the notion today which shares similarities and differences with global discourses of interculturality deserves to be unpacked and familiarized with By so doing digging into the intricacies of the Chinese and English languages the reader is empowered to unthink rethink and especially reflect on their own take on the important notion of interculturality
