How You Are Wired William Vanderbloemen, 2025-10-07 It's no secret that some people are just better suited to their jobs than others. It's time to find out why and how you can achieve this same success and happiness too. Remember taking that career test in grade school where you were told you'd make a great federal judge or an exemplary lighthouse keeper. In this book, executive search CEO William Vanderbloemen takes that concept and maps it against hundreds of thousands of data points forming a roadmap for all of us on how to choose careers that align with our personalities so that we are happy at work. William has become an unlikely business expert over his long and continuing career. Combining over fifteen years of ministry experience as a Senior Pastor with the best practices of executive search, William created a brand new industry: executive search for faith-based organizations. Prior to founding his own search company, William studied under a mentor with over twenty-five years of executive search experience at the highest level. William has surveyed thousands of people in the workforce. He's asked what their job is and how they feel about them. He also asked them to report their scores on leading personality assessments. Now in this groundbreaking guide, William helps you recognize the traits you possess that make you happy and then match those against your possible careers to find the best match. Buy What You Love Without Going Broke Jen Smith, Jill Sirianni, 2025-01-07 A relatable personal finance guide that gives a fresh take on how to control your impulse spending so you can stick to a budget and pay off debt without the guilt and shame of traditional financial advice from the hosts of the beloved Frugal Friends podcast. There's a lot of noise out there about how to spend and not spend your hard-earned money. But what if you made financial decisions based on what you value instead of what others are telling you to value? This is the empowering approach. Jen Smith and Jill Sirianni, hosts of the Frugal Friends podcast, want you to take to improve your spending habits. They believe you can value anything, yes, anything, whether that's a daily latte, fancy dinners, or vacations. But despite what social media is saying, you don't value everything. The Frugal Friends wisdom comes from personal experience. Jen paid off 78,000 of debt in two years without a six-figure income, while Jill has a background in social work and downsized to an RV to pay off student loans. Together, their advice is both relatable and actionable. In their debut book, they share a plan for sifting through what's not important to find the things you truly love spending money on. You'll learn how to analyze your current spending and identify what you value. Prioritize your values when you can't afford everything. Identify the root causes of your impulse spending. Make your habit changes stick long-term. From credit card and student loan debt to the rising costs of childcare and homes, it has never been more important to get control of your spending. Jen and Jill show you how to do it in a way that's healthy, not shameful, while exploring topics like overconsumption, self-worth, and the insidious history behind our consumption-obsessed culture. If you want to reach your goals and feel good about your finances, Buy What You Love Without Going Broke offers a holistic approach to reshape the way you think about spending money. Does Anyone Else Feel This Way? Eli Rallo, 2025-10-14 An instant New York Times bestseller. From TikTok star and the author of I Didn't Know I Needed This, Eli Rallo's reflection on the anxiety of transitioning into adulthood, navigating the quarter life crisis and realizing you're actually not alone. Does anyone else feel like they're the only one having a quarter life crisis? As a senior in college, Eli Rallo expected her post-grad years to be filled with certainty that she would finally feel that she was the adult she had long dreamed she'd be with a cool job, an amazing apartment, fabulous friends, and lots of fun and flirty date nights. Instead, she was met with crippling social anxiety, no idea what direction her career was taking, an inability to stop comparing herself to her peers' picture-perfect lives on social media, and a looming sense that she may never feel certain about her dating life, friendships, career, or even herself. With deep honesty, raw emotions, humor, and relatability, Eli analyzes life in your twenties with a candid and heartfelt approach, asking and answering questions like: How do you manage losing a best friend? How do you know who you are or what you want to do with your life? How do you find time and space for all of your priorities? How do you navigate the choppy waters of the social media world and not fall victim to the comparison game? What happens when the timeline you made for yourself as a child is long in your past? How do you know you're making the right decisions? Even though early adulthood doesn't look just like Sex and the City or Thirteen Going on Thirty the way Eli thought it would with Does Anyone Else Feel This Way, Eli shows you that you're not the only one who misses the days when they could swing by the dining hall or just wants to call their mom to make it all go away. With a look at her own misadventures and hard-won life lessons, Eli shares the journey she's been on to find herself as an adult and the twists and turns she's taken while navigating her own quarter life crisis.

Snap Susin Nielsen, 2025-04-29. A laugh-out-loud novel about the consequences of being pushed to the edge and plummeting right over it. Frances Partridge, fifty-five, is a beloved children's author. Geraint Blevins, forty-one, is an auto mechanic and devoted family man. Parker Poplawski, twenty-three, is just starting her career as a wardrobe assistant on a hit TV show. What do these people have in common? Nothing that's what. Until each of them reaches a breaking point and snaps in spectacular fashion. They meet in a court-mandated anger management class, three very different people forced to spend a lot of time together who slowly end up bonding and helping one another in unexpected ways, whether it's to move on or to exact revenge. Lighthearted, timely, and funny, Snap is Nielsen at the top of her storytelling game, delivering flawed but relatable characters whose heartaches, foibles, and choices will make you cringe as you laugh out loud.
